

Arkansas Is Split Over Daylight Time

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Arkansas is about split on the question whether the state should go on Daylight Saving Time, but the "ayes" have a slight edge.

That's the consensus, according to the State Chamber of Commerce, which has been making a study of the advisability of the time change.

The idea of more light at the end of the day is a popular one among transportation groups, Chambers of Commerce and the Arkansas Municipal League but the biggest opposition comes from the Arkansas Theater Owners Association.

The Arkansas Municipal League said 83 city officials favor the "Fast" Time and 71 are opposed to it. Four were indifferent.

Forty-six Chambers of Commerce favored the question and 36 were against it with four expressing no concern.

The Arkansas Press Association was polled with the newspaper publishers almost evenly divided. Only a few more were against the proposal.

Among subscribers to the state's newspapers, the time change carried by quite a majority.

The motion picture people have deluged the State Chamber with post cards in protest of the proposal. Theater owners charged that Daylight Saving Time "would destroy all drive-in theater business during the starting time, which is controlled by the time complete darkness occurs."

To sum it all up, Frank Cantrell, director of the State Chamber, said the larger cities of the state generally favored the time change and the smaller communities which are largely dependent on rural trade oppose it.

Bullet-Shaped Blob Lights Southern Sky

ATLANTA (UP)—A bullet-shaped blob of light flashed across the southeastern sky early Sunday night and blew up with blinding brilliance.

Witnesses from as far north as Martinsburg, W. Va., and Corbin, Ky., and as far south as Georgia reported seeing the object, the local Weather Bureau reported. Curious callers jammed telephone switchboards in cities along the object's course, inquiring what had passed over.

Authorities at Dobbins Air Force Base indicated they would begin an investigation today in an effort to determine the answer.

Among the observers were several pilots in the air at the time of the object's passage.

The object appeared shortly before 8:30 p.m. e.s.t., according to observers. It moved southward at terrific speed, witnesses said, and trailed a shower of bright sparks.

"All reports indicate it was very bright, bullet-shaped, fiery red with a yellow tail and put out a lot of fireworks," a Weather Bureau spokesman said.

"The fliers said it lit up their cockpits," the Weather Bureau said. "None of them actually saw it fall. They also indicated it was very high. One jet pilot flying at 39,000 feet said it was well above him."

Navy pilot H. D. Jarvis, on a flight from Charleston, W. Va., in a T-28 trainer, reported on landing at Dobbins that the red globe "burst with such brilliance that it blinded me."

Jarvis said he was over the city of Cornelia in northern Georgia when he saw the object.

At Rome, Ga., radio announcer Bob Martin said he spotted the flash from his home. "It lit up the whole doggone sky northeast from where I live," he said. "It looked like a white ball trailed by a red ball, and made a white light."

"Both came on gradually, not quick as lightning," Martin added, "and then faded and disappeared together. The object appeared to be moving about southward."

The eight past presidents, Mrs. R. F. Yarbrough, Mrs. Jesse Porter, Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Joe Brummett, Mrs. J. R. Bemis, Mrs. Vernon Buchanan, Mrs. Tillman Worthington and Mrs. J. T. McRae, were honored by presenting a rose, the club's flower, to each. Also each was honored by the dedication of a book to be placed in a garden club library. Each book will be inscribed with one president's name and year of office.

After the program the guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served. The table was covered with a marbled cloth and the center piece was a tall silver candelabrum filled with happiness roses, pink snapdragons and pink candles. The cakes, decorated with pink rose buds, and the pink mints added to the beauty at the table. Mrs. Rettig presided at the tea service and Mrs. B. C. Moody served the cakes.

U. S. Has UN Aid Against Soviet Charge

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United States had mustered overwhelming support of U.N. Security Council members today against Soviet charges that U.S. bombers laden with hydrogen bombs threaten to start World War III by flying toward Russia.

The Security Council was called into session to hear the complaint made on Friday by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

American officials expected a Soviet resolution denouncing the United States would be beaten by a 9 to 1 Security Council vote.

Soviet representative Arkady A. Sobolev was taking the rostrum first to demand "urgent measures to put an end to flight by U.S. military aircraft armed with atomic and hydrogen bombs in the direction of the frontiers of the Soviet Union."

Speech Carefully Documented
U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., backed by experts of the Strategic Air Command, and the Defense and State Departments, planned to answer Sobolev with a carefully documented speech that would refute Gromyko's charges the flights were "provocative."

Members of the Security Council were prepared to go into an extraordinary night session if necessary to wind up the question as soon as possible. Lodge, Security Council president for the month of April, was reported to have the backing of Canada, China, Colombia, France, Iran, Japan, Panama and Britain, current members of the Council besides Russia.

The Russian complaint against the United States—first major East-West Security Council conflict since Russia crushed the anti-Communist revolt in Hungary—referred to a "report of the American news agency United Press."

This report was a dispatch by Frank H. Bartholomew, president of the United Press, written on April 7 after two personal visits to Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha, Neb.

Alerted by 'Objects'
The dispatch said H. bomb equipped planes had taken off toward the Soviet frontiers several times when warnings were received of unidentified objects heading toward the United States.

The dispatch emphasized it would be impossible for the planes to attack Russia by mistake. Assistant Defense Secretary Murray Snyder said the dispatch on the SAC alert system was "accurately and correctly" written by Bartholomew and that the U.P. dispatch "was cleared with the Defense Department before publication."

The U.S. stand against the Soviet charges was expected to be based largely on the fact that a fool-proof system makes it impossible for the American bombers to drop nuclear bombs on Russia by mistake. Only a direct order from President Eisenhower could drop the bombs.

Little Rock Has Traffic Engineer

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The city's new traffic engineer is on the job today, and he said he has noticed, several things already that are wrong with the traffic control system.

Henry DeNoble, 31, had been the Springfield, Mo. traffic engineer.

He said, among other things, he noticed the Little Rock traffic lights need to be painted for better visibility, the lights need to be synchronized, speed limits need to be changed, and parking needs to be changed on some thoroughfares.

Texas Storms Cause Some Damage

Thunderstorms whipped by winds up to 80 miles an hour struck Fort Worth, Tex., uprooting trees, felling power lines and shattering windows. High winds also raked Dallas, Amarillo and Wichita Falls, Tex., and demolished 30 private boats at Possum Kingdom Lake.

Hail up to half an inch in diameter pounded Borger, Tex., Sunday night, and at least two tornadoes touched ground near Dumas, Tex., but caused no damage.

Other funnel clouds were reported Sunday in east-central Arkansas near Bement and east central Kansas near Little Rock.

The squall line marked the path of a cold air front which pushed eastward out of Texas and by nightfall extended to the Carolinas and north to New York state.

Precipitation also occurred along the lower Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and Tennessee and into Mississippi and northern Alabama. Jackson, Miss., was doused with .81 inches of rain during the night and marble-sized hail and high winds accompanied the storm.

A few scattered showers were reported in parts of New England, but most of the Atlantic Coast states enjoyed fair and warm weather.

Fair skies also ruled Sunday from California east into Colorado and New Mexico, but showers were widespread from the Pacific Northwest and across the Rockies into the northern Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley.

The storm front sent readings dipping into the 40s and 50s in the Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley overnight, and Grand Marais, Mich., reported an early morning low of 27.

By contrast, 100-plus temperatures raked southern California Sunday and weathermen predicted more sizzling readings today. The mercury bubbled to 95 in Los Angeles where 25 baseball fans suffered heat exhaustion at the Coliseum.

Burbank, Calif., recorded an all-time April record high of 100 degrees, and the desert resort of Palm Springs and the town of Thermal baked in 100-degree temperatures.

Mexico's Liberty Bell was rung to call patriots to arms in 1810; now it peals each year on Sept. 16.

was not in itself the major issue in the campaign. He said the chief problems were those accompanying integration.

Ward also said he felt local school districts should be given the right to vote on integration as proposed by him.

Other planks of Ward's platform:

—Removal from the governor's office "the improper and unethical influence" of officials of the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co.

—Protection of state college and universities from "such unwelcome pressure" as being applied to President Horace E. Thompson of Arkansas A&M college in Monticello.

—Prevention of the state highway program from being returned "to selfish interest and machine politicians."

—Calling a halt to "gross waste and misuse" of tax money.

—Selling a minimum residence requirement of one year for divorcees.

—Taking the governor's office "out of the business of promoting dog tracks throughout Arkansas."

—Strengthening safeguards for the people against improper practices by a few questionable insurance companies.

—Relieving members of the Democratic Party in Arkansas from the threat of a third-party movement.

The 51-year-old Ward represents the 12 Chancery District of Arkansas which takes in Craighead, Greene, Mississippi, Polk and Crittenden counties.

Ward's family includes his wife, Pearl and one daughter, Carol Lee, 22, who is teaching school in Michigan. Ward was born two miles east of Greenway in Clay county. He is a World War II Navy veteran.

crashed.

The collision occurred at approximately 20,000 feet.

Denny Schieck, a photographer for the Las Vegas Review-Journal, an eyewitness to the crash said he saw a white puff of smoke, followed by a flash. A black plume of smoke billowed out of the wreckage as the two planes plummeted earthward and landed in the desert 10 miles apart.

A Civil Aeronautics Administration spokesman said wreckage of the four-engine commercial liner was "spread over an area about a mile square."

Schieck said he saw a parachute blossom out after the collision and it was believed the pilot of the jet had escaped. A spokesman at Nellis Air Force Base said it was presumed the jet was an R100 from Nellis.

The UAL plane had left Los Angeles International Airport on a flight to New York with a scheduled stop at Denver.

At Chicago, United Air Lines said any information on the passenger list would be released there, but that it would probably be "a couple of hours" before it was available.

Sheriff's officers said the rocky terrain where the planes crashed was inaccessible except by using jeeps and horses and was some 10 miles southwest of Las Vegas. Smoke from the burning wreckage could be seen from the downtown area.

The isolated, remote area was some 20 miles east of the mountain area where another crash carried to death actress Carole Lombard in 1942. She had been en route home after appearing in a war bond sale in New York.

The Granular 2, 4-D was provided and applied by the Reaser-Hill Corporation of Jacksonville, Arkansas. Condition of Mr. Hoover Is Improved

NEW YORK (UP) — Herbert Hoover's doctors reported today the former President's condition was improved and they were well satisfied with his progress toward recovery from a gall bladder operation performed Saturday.

A Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital bulletin this morning said: "Mr. Hoover had a quiet night. He was brighter and more alert this morning and we permitted him to stand up for five minutes. Temperature was 99, pulse 72, blood pressure 135 over 70, respiration normal. His general improvement continues."

The spokesman said the former President's doctors were not worried about slight changes in Hoover's temperature, pulse and blood pressure. He said the changes were "not significant."

The former President's son Allan visited his father on his way to work today. After spending 15 minutes with Hoover the son reported he found his father sitting in a chair and reading the morning paper.

"He had a good night and seemed to be just fine," Allan said. "They're going to walk him around in the afternoon."

Court Rules Against Chancery Citation

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today threw out a Lonoke Chancery court citation for contempt against Justice of the Peace A.B. Robinson in a dispute involving a city privilege tax.

The court, in an opinion written by Justice Sam Robinson, said the Chancery court was without jurisdiction to enjoin the justice of peace from hearing a case involving the tax.

Since the court was without jurisdiction to hear the case, it was without jurisdiction to punish the justice, the opinion said.

The argument started when the city levied a privilege tax against businessman Jan. 14, 1957. About 80 persons paid the tax, but Henry Morgan and seven others refused to pay. They were taken before the mayor's court where on May 17, 1957, and the ordinance was declared unconstitutional.

Thought For the Day

A man was limping along a country road. "This road is too rough," he complained to the man with him. "My foot aches so much, I can hardly walk."

"The road's not too rough for me," his friend replied. "But if you want to, we'll stop and rest."

"Let's do," agreed the first man. The men sat down and the one man removed his shoe. As he did, a small pebble rolled out and fell to the ground.

"The pebble was at fault, not the road. Isn't it true that a lot of us blame the road when it's really just a pebble in our shoe. We think the whole road is rough, and looking back over something that seemed extremely hard and rough, we wonder how we got through it so easily. The mental pebbles we put in our shoes make the job hard - not the job itself. Once we get rid of the mental obstacle, our whole attitude is different."

Next time the road looks rough to you, see if it isn't just a pebble that got between you and the road - Selected.

Accidents in Arkansas Take Seven Lives

BY UNITED PRESS

At least seven persons died in accidents this weekend in Arkansas, a United Press survey showed, with five fatalities the result of auto wrecks.

Pauline Chambliss, 13, of Bradford, was killed in an accident about two miles south of there Sunday, state police reported. She was a passenger in a car driven by Lester McDonald, 18, of Bald Knob. Two others in the car, Laweta Chambliss, 15, of Bradford and William King, 17, of Bald Knob, were injured.

The authorities said the car skidded into the path of a truck driven by E. L. McGilbray, 41, of Russell. He and Edd Inman, 46, also of Russell, were injured. Two youths were killed Saturday when their car overturned on highway 9 about two miles south of Morrilton.

State Police identified the dead as Joel Ray Tester, 19, and Jimmy Swilley, 17. Three other persons in the car were injured.

And a head-on collision a mile south of Cabot on U.S. 67 Saturday night took two lives and injured three other persons. The dead were Ira Hanna, 35, of Little Rock Air Force Base, and Mrs. Dale Apple, 35, of Salado near Bayville.

The State Police said the Hanna car burst into flames and the Apple car was demolished in the accident. Mrs. Apple's husband and their two daughters, Billie Jean, 12, and Dewona, 16, were hospitalized.

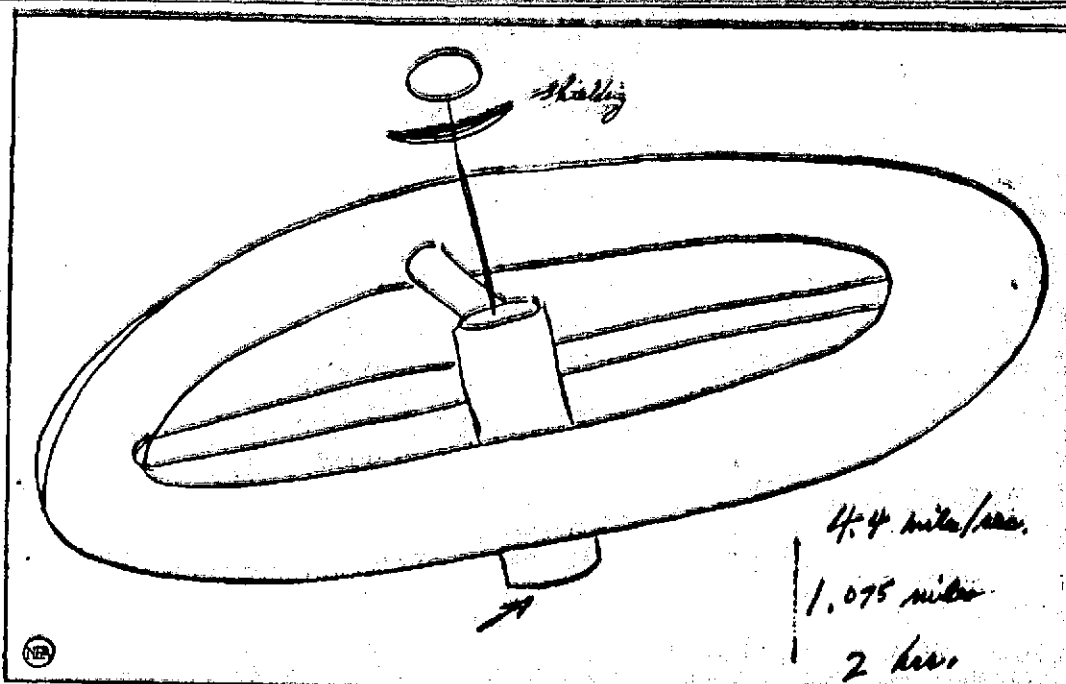

Elijah H. Wiles, 80, of Trumann died in a Jonesboro hospital Saturday about three hours after he was struck by a Frisco freight train at Trumann.

He told hospital attendants he believed he suffered a stroke and fell in front of the oncoming train. An 18-year-old Little Rock Central High School senior drowned in the Force La Fave River near state highway 7 south of Ola Saturday. He was Jesse Galvin Green, who fell from a boat which he and two other youths were riding on.

TO RESUME RIVALRY
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP) - Purdue and Miami of Florida will resume their football rivalry in 1958 at Miami. Miami has won two of their three meetings.

COMING AND GOING
Mrs. Mary Carls left Sunday night for Chicago, Illinois to attend the funeral of her brother.

LEY'S WAY—The sketch above is not a doodle. It is an "original" from the pen of one of America's greatest authorities on space, Willy Ley. It is his conception of a space station which scientists now think will be orbiting 1,075 miles out before our present school children are graybeards. This doughnut-shaped "spinning wheel" type station is the type advocated by Werner von Braun, another space pioneer. Lecturing in Cleveland, Ohio, in connection with his new book, "Rockets, Missiles and Space Travel," Ley said that unless there are new developments in rocketry, such a space station will be necessary before man lands on the moon. Nuclear energy now offers the best power source to run the vehicle, he says. His sketch shows a globular nuclear reactor at top with a disk of shielding underneath it. Interior of wheel would provide room for accommodations, machinery and instruments. Constructed in orbit, the satellite would circle the earth in two hours at a speed of 4.4 miles per second.

MISSILEMAN—Young Patrick Moriarty looks all set for a trip into space as he and his dad, Capt. Daniel R. Moriarty of Greenwich, N.Y., watch the fueling of a Nike missile at the Army Air Defense School, Fort Bliss, Tex. Handling the job are SFC James E. Bennett, center, of International Falls, Minn., and Pvt. Jack L. Harrison of Wayne, Ohio. That's a pretty advanced weapon Patrick is handling, himself.

Leaders Longer Than Heaviest Fish
By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

While leaders for fresh water fishing are generally made of nylon monofilament and silk-worm gut, the great majority used in salt water are made of metal.

It is especially important when you go after any of the billfish that you have the right type, length and diameter of leader to prevent their breaking off.

In big game fishing the most popular leader materials include: tinned, high-carbon steel wire, commonly called piano wire which has very high tensile strength and generally is used in a single strand with sizes for large tuna ranging between .025 and .035 in diameter; stainless steel wire which is superior insofar as resistance to corrosive action is concerned, but does not have as great a tensile strength as the corresponding size of tinned steel wire; and stainless steel cable, 1/16th inch in diameter, and composed of seven main strands each containing as many individual wires, called 7x7, testing 480 pounds, used in fishing for blue marlin.

Leaders generally are made up in a length somewhat longer than the heaviest fish they are expected to hook. Fishing for large blue fin tuna, for example, a guide generally will use up to 15 feet of tinned steel wire.

Fishing for blue marlin, however, he may use a cable leader between 20 and 25 feet in length because of the tendency of blue marlin at times to roll in a leader were, thereby chafing the fishing line with its tail if the leader is not of sufficient length.

Lighter steel leaders, either tinned or stainless, generally used for saltwater game ranging from .018 and .020 inches in diameter, commonly called No. 7 and No. 8, respectively, with the tensile strength of No. 7 tinned steel wire listed at approximately 90 pounds, No. 8 at 115 pounds.

Truckers to Meet Commissioner

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Representatives of trucking firms operating in Arkansas will meet with the Arkansas Commerce Commission Thursday to request a 12 percent freight rate increase.

The railroad recently asked the same increase. Bus companies have asked a 10 percent hike in passenger rates. Both are under advisement.

COACH DEAL REPORTED
CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Reports circulated today that St. Louis University was trying to lure Jim McCalister, basketball coach at Xavier University of Ohio, The 68-20-pound McCalister, formerly coached Xavier to the National Invitation Tournament title at New York last month.

ROBBY TAKES TITLE
CANNES, France (UP)—Jacques Robby of Egypt beat Paul Remy of France, 6-2, 3-6, 9-7, Sunday to win the Cannes International tennis tournament.

CAROLINAS OVER VIRGINIA
RICHMOND, N.C. (UP)—Billy Joe Patton of Morantown, N.C., beat Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., Sunday in a golf match between two Walker Cuppers. Patton's victory helped the Carolinas team defeat the Virginians staged in the Captain's Putter match.

MULLOY WINS DOUBLES
SAN REMO, Italy (UP)—Gardner Mulloy of Miami headed for tennis' second top in the European tennis tour today with another victory. Mulloy and a local partner, a Mexican, won the doubles final in the San Remo tournament.

Ted Williams, Stan Musial Share Headlines

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial and Ted Williams are sharing the headlines again today — Musial because he's off to one of his best starts and Williams because he's off to one of his worst.

The 37-year-old Musial finally got the St. Louis Cardinals into the win column Sunday when he knocked in four runs with a pair of two-run homers in a 9-4 victory over the previously unbeaten Chicago Cubs. He's collected 10 hits, including four homers, in five games for a .435 average.

The 39-year-old Williams, meanwhile, went hitless in four trips as the Boston Red Sox suffered their fifth defeat in six games — a 10-inning, 6-5 loss to the Washington Senators. Williams' average is now an inglorious .000 after seven futile at bats.

In other major developments: —Bob Turley's four-hitter enabled the New York Yankees to beat the Baltimore Orioles, 7-0, for their fifth win in six games.

—Robin Roberts beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, and equaled Grover Cleveland Alexander's record of 180 wins by a Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher.

4 More over the Fence
—Four more "little league homers" were hit in the controversial Los Angeles Coliseum as the

"Oh, heavens, I don't know how you could get along without the newspaper! You'd never know about sales or where to buy anything."*

* From "The Functions of Newspapers for Their Readers," a study conducted for newspapers by Social Research, Inc.

NEWSPAPERS + PEOPLE = ACTION

Every day when newspapers and people get together, things start popping. News stories, editorials and features constantly arouse readers to action. So does the advertising. Without the daily newspaper, as the lady says, "You'd never know about sales or where to buy anything."

Newspaper advertising differs from many other kinds of advertising because it is wanted. It is looked upon as news and read with as much interest. But people not only look for advertising in the newspaper — they act upon it. They buy from it.

That's why advertisers, year after year, spend more money in daily newspapers than they do in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined.

Over 58,000,000 newspapers are bought daily, providing complete news, features, information — and advertising. If it's action you want — action you'll get — from your advertising in the action medium, the daily newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.
